

MY CAREER PATH AS A FUTURE ENGINEER

my name is Anchal Kumari, and I am a first year student at RUNGTA international skills university. i am hardworking, a quick learner a good team player and have a positive attitude. my short term goal is to improve my technical and soft skills while performing well in academics. in the long term i aim to work in a reputed company and become an expert in my chosen field. My motivation is : "Dream.Plan.Achieve.

MY CAREER GOAL

My career goal is to continuously improve my technical and soft skills , gain practical experience through internships, and performs well in academics. in the long term, i am to secure a position in a reputed company and become an expert in my chosen field. i am motivated to work hard and achieve success through dedication and learning.

ROADMAP

My long-term career goal is to establish myself as an expert in my chosen field, working in a reputed company where I can apply my skills and contribute to meaningful projects. I aim to continuously upgrade my knowledge, take on challenging roles, develop leadership qualities, and achieve both professional success and personal growth. Ultimately, I want to build a stable and fulfilling career while making a positive impact in my industry.

SKILL AND STRENGTH

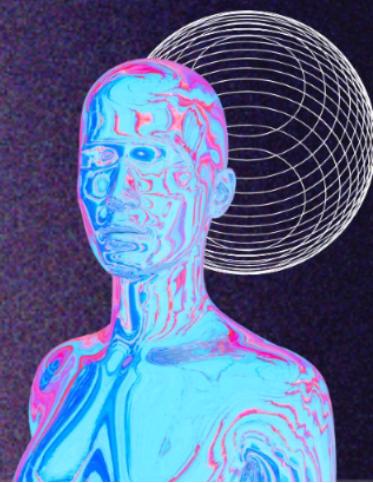

TECHNICAL SKILLS:-

My technical skills include programming languages like C, C++, and Python, basic knowledge of web development (HTML, CSS, JavaScript), database management, and problem-solving using algorithms and data structures. I am also familiar with using software tools and applications relevant to my field and continuously learning new technologies to enhance my professional abilities.

SOF SKILLS:-

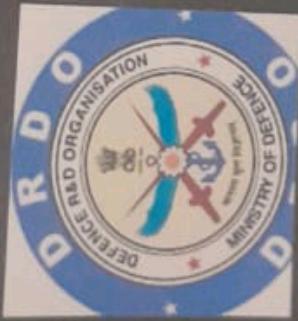

My soft skills include effective communication, teamwork, time management, adaptability, and leadership. These skills help me collaborate efficiently, handle challenges, and maintain a positive and professional attitude in both academic and work environments.

I am Anchal Kumari 1st year computer science student , passionate about technology and web development.

Google

DREAM JOB

THANK YOU!